

The right MRO solutions — exactly when it matters most.

Custom solutions. Superior quality. Proven performance.

USA Industries is more than a service provider—we are your maintenance, repair, and operations (MRO) partner. We deliver tailored solutions for heat exchangers, boilers, and piping, ensuring the right expertise and products arrive exactly when you need them. The result: maximized uptime, performance, and operations that run smoothly, efficiently, and safely.

YOUR UPTIME MRO PARTNER

Oil & Gas | Refining | Petrochemical | Power Generation | Chemical Processing

USAI'S CORE COMPETENCIES

USA Industries helps streamline operations, enhance equipment performance, and reduce the need for frequent replacements. We enable faster setup and implementation, less downtime during transitions, and smoother ongoing operations. And we provide reliable access to products when you need them most, reducing the risk of delays.

PRODUCT CUSTOMIZATION

- USA Industries works directly with organizations to create customized products that fit your specific operational needs
- Whether you need custom packaging, specialized materials, or a particular configuration, USA Industries can provide uniquely tailored solutions

DESIGN FLEXIBILITY

- When unique sizes, specialized materials, or customized features are needed, our engineering team can provide the perfect solution
- Our solutions are engineered with flexibility in mind, allowing you to get the exact specifications and features your operations demand

EASE OF APPLICATION

- Our products are designed for easy application and simple integration, reducing installation complexity and minimizing operational disruptions

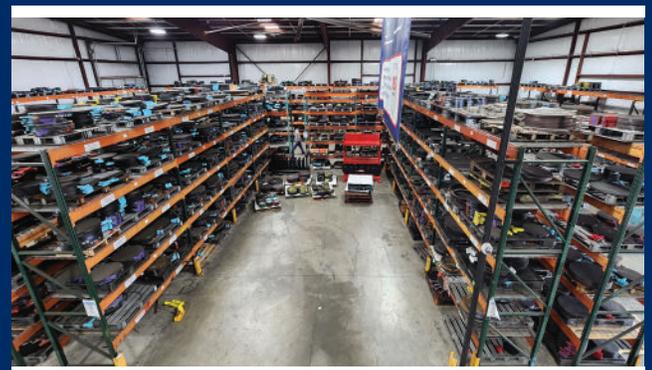

- User-friendly features allow your team to apply the products quickly and with minimal training, reducing both labor and downtime

ENSURED AVAILABILITY AND QUICK DELIVERY

- Our comprehensive inventory keeps a wide variety of products in stock to meet the demands of your operations
- With a robust supply chain and local warehouses, USA Industries ensures rapid fulfillment and prompt delivery, often on a same-day or next-day basis

WHY DO COMPANIES PARTNER WITH USA INDUSTRIES FOR THEIR MRO NEEDS?

USA Industries instills confidence as a knowledgeable, experienced industry-best partner who understands your operational challenges. We enhance workforce safety, minimize risk, and reduce downtime—delivering the expertise and reliability your operations demand.

EXPERTISE

- Decades of experience in providing the solutions companies need most—across industries such as manufacturing, oil & gas, transportation, and coal-fired power generation
- Our in-house engineering team specializes in customization, ensuring your unique needs are met with precision

COMMITMENT TO SAFETY AS A PRIORITY

- We design our products to not only meet but exceed industry safety requirements. Our solutions are rigorously tested to ensure they meet or exceed all relevant safety standards.
- USA Industries solutions mitigate risk, protecting people and equipment against hazards—from high pressures and high temperatures to corrosive and explosive environments.

PRESERVATION OF UPTIME

- Our products are engineered for durability and long-term performance, withstanding the rigors of daily operations while reducing frequent repairs and replacements. Extended life cycles lower maintenance costs and extend equipment life.

HOW WE ARE DIFFERENT

USA Industries delivers performance, operational continuity, and efficiency—without compromising safety or compliance—so you spend less time on setup and more time keeping operations running.

Beyond manufacturing critical products used during turnarounds, shutdowns, and EPC projects— isolation plugs, blinds, tube plugs, orifice plates and heat exchanger tooling—we provide hands-on customer support to ensure safe, effective maintenance, testing, and repair of high-pressure, high-temperature equipment.

Clear documentation, responsive technical support, and a nationwide distribution and logistics network ensure on-time delivery—every time. When urgency matters most, expedited shipping helps you avoid costly downtime.

USA Industries is more than a supplier; we're your partner in maintaining operational excellence, enhancing safety, and maximizing uptime. Together, we'll keep your business and your operations running smoothly.
